STRANGERS IN OUR GATES.

Hopkinsville is now the temporary abiding place of several hundred visitors from all over Kentucky.

Our people have opened their hearts and homes to these strangers and are endeavoring with genuine Kentucky hospitality to make them feel at home. They are a body of devout Christian men and women, representing one of the great religious denominations of the United States. The ablest men in the Baptist church in Kentucky and other Southern States are here and Baptist church in Kentucky and other Southern States are here and many of them will be heard from the pulpits of the various churches during their sojourn. Not only are we glad to have these distinguished divines "in our midst," but the humblest laymen among the visitors are equally as welcome. On beare equally as welcome. On behalf of the people of Hopkinsville.

THE DAILY KENTUCKIAN extends the "glad hand" to the visiting brether.

Sir Julian Paunceforte has in formed Secretary Day that when the United States captures Cuba Spain will be forced by the powers to end the war. Great Britain to end the war. #### Strange Accomplishment,

Among the customs of the aborigi nal Australians a party of English explorers discovered that nasal flute explorers discovered that nasal flute playing was one. Two young natives with fillets about their hair were se-lected to furnish music for a feast. The English were surprised to see them hold their simple, forest-made flutes to their noses. With their mouths closed they inhaled through one nestril and exhaled though the other in such a way that it was be sible to produce a certain weird, wild music.—Chienge News.

Mrs. Thomas Hagerman, an old Mrs. Thomas Hagerman, an old lady of Warren connty, died Saturday afternoon. When a mere child Mrs. Hagerman had two fingest cut from her left hand. Nothing more came of it after they healed, barring the inconvenience incident to such misfortune, nothing was thought of it until some time last week. Then she was taken was thought of it until some time last week. Then she was taken with a severe pain located in the severed members. The pain be-came excruciating and a physician was summoned. Nothing could be done to arrest the serious pain, but instead her arm became inflamed, turned black and blood poisoning set in, causing death.
